Dane County Parks Surplus Wood Collection Permit Application Process

1. Submit a Dane County Parks Surplus Wood Collection Permit Application via email. Applications should be submitted prior to wood collection. Staff are available to discuss your proposed activities prior to submitting your application. (If you are removing wood during an approved DCP volunteer event (e.g. a restoration workday, trail construction, etc.), no permit is needed.)
2. Dane County Park staff will review the application and will either approve or deny the request and will contact you if additional information is needed.
3. If approved, you must keep your completed permit with you at all times while retrieving surplus wood on county land.

Volunteers and Surplus Wood Guidelines

- General guidelines for defining wood as “surplus wood” are:
 - Wood is excess to the department’s needs.
 - Wood removal must support the objectives of existing natural areas management and/or park development projects such as habitat restoration, pest control, trail maintenance, or facility development.
 - Wood to be gathered must be flat on the ground. No trees may be felled and no leaning or hung up dead wood can be brought to the ground unless specifically stated in the permit.
- Wood is on a first come, first served basis and cannot be reserved by individual permit holders.
- Volunteer must keep their vehicle on established trails, fire lanes, or farm lanes. Driving is not permitted where rutting or other damage may occur. Park users – pedestrians, cyclists, horseback riders, etc. – always have right of way and vehicle speed should be kept to less than 5 mph. Wood must be removed from the area by hand, sled, wheelbarrow, or other method that does not damage trails or natural areas.
- Volunteer is expected to understand the purpose of wood removal as it supports the objectives of the County and be willing to explain these objectives to others upon request.
- Any surplus wood collected shall only be for your personal use. Commercial products created using Dane County Parks surplus wood is strictly prohibited. For example, sale of split firewood, value-added wood products (such as bowls, furniture) mushrooms grown on surplus logs, etc...
